First, decide who will be person A and who will be person B. Then using the pictures below person A will tell person B what to put in the suitcase (the envelope). When A has told B everything that needs to be in the suitcase, then B needs to check and make sure that he/she is right. B will then tell A everything that is in the suitcase. If something is incorrect, then A will correct B. then you switch roles, and person B tells person A what to pack in the suitcase.
