

From: NCSS Conference Planning Committee kmata@ncss.org
Subject: Your Proposal for the 105th NCSS Annual Conference
Date: June 17, 2025 at 3:25 PM
To: Mfs mfs0025@auburn.edu

You don't often get email from kmata@ncss.org. Learn why this is important

Dear Matthew:

We are pleased to inform you that your proposal #216, Ecueraacapa's Dilemma: A Historical Think Aloud for the fate of Comancheria, for presentation consideration at the 105th NCSS Annual Conference in Washington, DC has been accepted! Congratulations on this accomplishment. To ensure the highest quality sessions are presented, your submission underwent a blind review (without revealing authorship), multi-step process, plus two additional reviews by up to six peer reviewers, who gave you high marks and identified your session as among the best.

Poster presentations will be located at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center, located in Hall D, and held in 55-minute time slots on Friday, December 5, and Saturday, December 6. As a poster presenter, you will be supplied with a large bulletin board on which to display visuals related to your presentation. You will also have a table for handouts, your laptop, and other artifacts and equipment you wish to bring.

Scheduling information will be sent to you in late July, along with poster session guidelines. You can express a preference on which day we schedule your session. Please fill out the 2025 NCSS Conference Schedule Preference by June 30, 2025. We will do our best to accommodate your request.

As the lead presenter for your session, you are responsible for ensuring that all individuals involved are aware that your proposal has been accepted. Please also make sure you and any co-presenters register for the conference by the pre-registration deadline of November 15, 2025. Registration is now open at www.socialstudies.org/conference. Presenters may register online at a discounted rate by entering the promo code pr1693 on the personal information page when registering.

Register by July 4 to receive a special early bird rate of $350 for NCSS members/$450 for NCSS non-members. Prices will increase after this date, discounted from the individual attendee rates.

Finally, allow us to congratulate you again for having your proposal accepted! We cannot wait to see you share knowledge and create inspiring moments for your colleagues.

We look forward to seeing you in Washington, DC this December!

NCSS Conference Planning Committee