I've now received 7 emails saying this is happening so I'm starting to believe that our proposal is, in fact, accepted! Congrats, all. Special thanks to Paul for pulling together this group of misfits and miscreants....Chris

Subject: 2022 NCTE Annual Convention Proposal Decision

Dear APaul Thomas,

Thank you for your proposal submission for the 2022 Annual Convention, "¡Sueños! Pursuing the Light!" The response to the Call for Proposals was enthusiastic and inspiring. It was a great honor to learn about the work of our colleagues, and selecting from the proposals was extremely difficult. Proposals underwent an extensive peer-review process, with each being considered by at least four different reviewers.

I am pleased to inform you that your proposal, Banned in the USA: Lighting a Fire for Reading and Not to Books, has been accepted for the 2022 NCTE Annual Convention that will be held November 17–20 in Anaheim, California. Please note the following:

- As is standard for NCTE, individual proposals are combined with other similar sessions. We will share additional details, such as the new session title, in early summer.
- We will share the date and time of sessions in early summer and ask you to confirm.
- As of now, we are planning for all concurrent sessions to be in person.

If you submitted multiple proposals, you will receive an email notification for each proposal you submitted and/or in which you were listed as a co-presenter or panelist.

Please also see the 2022 Call for Proposal page for an FAQ with information about the Convention. Please send questions to the NCTE Events Team at NCTEevents@ncte.org (please do not reply to this email message). We look forward to your session in November!

All my best,

María E. Fránquiz
NCTE President-Elect
2022 NCTE Annual Convention Program Chair
