Dear Hyun Sung Jang,

The paper you submitted "Testing Mastery-Avoidance Goals From the Achievement Goal Questionnaire for Sports: A Meta-Analytic Confirmatory Factor Analysis" is scheduled to be presented in the Roundtable Session "Achievement Goals, Classroom Goal Structures, and Their Associations With Other Motivational Beliefs and Behaviors" at the 2022 AERA Annual Meeting. Your co-authors are copied on this email for awareness.

The AERA Annual Meeting Online Portal is now open for authors of individual paper submissions accepted for paper, roundtable, and poster sessions to upload a copy of the final paper to be presented at the 2022 AERA Annual Meeting. All papers must be uploaded no later than March 28, 2022. Session chairs and discussants (if applicable) will review the uploaded papers through the online portal in order to prepare for the session.

If you haven't already, now is the time to register and reserve a hotel room. All presenting authors of accepted papers and participants in all accepted sessions, whether place-based or virtual, are expected to register for the Annual Meeting and be present at the scheduled sessions.

INDIVIDUAL PAPER SUBMISSION UPLOAD REQUIREMENTS:

All presenters of individual papers accepted for presentation in a paper, poster, or roundtable format may upload a final paper into the online portal. The paper should include any additional research findings and conclusions from the time of submission. The paper should address the elements required for submission in greater detail and should expand upon the initial 2,000 word paper. There is no word limit for the final paper. If you do not upload a final paper, the initial paper uploaded during the submission process will constitute the final paper.

Poster presenters need to upload a final paper only if they would like to be part of the repository and provide a revised version of their paper. Otherwise a final paper upload is not required since there is no chair or discussant that will need to review the paper to prepare for the session.

ONLINE PAPER REPOSITORY:

All authors may elect to have their papers, presentations, or commentary papers included in the AERA Online Paper Repository. Many elected to do so at the time of submission, but the option remains available at the time of uploading. The repository is intended to provide broad dissemination of research presentations made at Annual Meetings.
