Dear Taryn Myers,

On behalf of the ABCT 2022 Program Committee, I am delighted to inform you that your Symposia, 1221728: Eating Pathology in Sexual and Gender Minority Individuals: Prevalence, Related Sociocultural Factors, and Treatment was accepted for presentation at ABCT's 56th Annual Convention to be held November 17 - 20, 2022 in New York City at the New York Marriott Marquis Hotel. Please inform your co-presenters as you are the only person who will receive official notification.

Thank-you very much for taking the time to prepare your submission. Our decision was based on the ratings of three independent reviewers on the Program Committee who rated each masked submission. The ratings of the reviewers (both the overall and individual items) were considered when selecting submissions. The program chairs analyzed the masked reviewer data and made statistically driven decisions. An upcoming issue of The Behavior Therapist will detail this process and the aggregated data.

Information on the date, time, and location of your presentation will be available in August, and we will email a notification to you when this information is available. At that time, you can go to the online Convention Itinerary Planner, which is accessed through the ABCT website. You will be able to search the site by the names of speakers and by topic keywords.

ABCT is planning for a COVID-safe, in-person convention experience in New York, November 17-20, 2022. If any conflicts arise that would prevent you from making your presentation, please contact Stephen Crane at abstractsubmission@abct.org. An announcement will be posted on the convention web page and an e-mail will be sent to membership and stakeholders in July with more information (based on the latest evidence and guidance) and our COVID safety protocols. We appreciate your understanding and flexibility as we pursue our options in this ever-changing environment.

Congratulations on the acceptance of your submission. You are a valued member of our professional community, and your work and contributions matter to us. We very much look forward to seeing your presentation at ABCT in NYC!

Sincerely,
Rosaura Orengo-Aguayo, Ph.D. & Emily Thomas, Ph.D.
