FYI – our paper was accepted as a poster for AERA in Toronto in April.

It looks like the reviews aren't actually up yet, but when they are I'll send those, too.

Subject: AERA 2019 Annual Meeting Individual Submission

Dear Kamden Strunk,

We are pleased to inform you that your paper, "An Analysis of Competing Achievement Goal Theoretical Models: A Meta-Analytic Confirmatory Factor Analysis of Two Scales" submitted for consideration for the 2019 AERA Annual Meeting has been accepted. Congratulations on this accomplishment. AERA received more than 12,000 submissions this year. To ensure the highest quality papers presented at the Annual Meeting, your submission was reviewed by highly qualified reviewers serving on a review panel constituted by the Division C - Learning and Instruction/Division C - Section 2a: Cognitive and Motivational Processes. Reviewers' comments are now available on the Online Annual Meeting Program Portal (All Academic) System for your use. To view comments, type www.aera.net into your web-browser. Click 'login' at the top of the screen, and after entering your username and password, click on 'My AERA' located at the top of the screen. Scroll down to 2019 AERA Annual Meeting and click on 'Online Program Portal'. Underneath the Submitter Menu, click on 'Read your Reviews'. Click on the 'pop-up paper review summary' to view the reviews for your submission.

The AERA meeting offers a number of session formats to feature high quality research and scholarly work. Your paper has been placed in a Poster Session session titled, "Contemporary Issues in Motivation Research Models of Motivation: Theoretical and Applied Advances". Each format involves different expectations about the mode of presentation. The program schedule, which will include information on the date, time, and location of your session, will be available mid-February. Sessions will be scheduled throughout the entire meeting and your session may be the first timeslot on the first day of the meeting or the last timeslot on the last day of the meeting. Keep in mind that the first session timeslot begins at 12:00 pm on April 5 and the last session time slot is 2:15 pm – 3:45 pm on April 9, so if you plan to book your flight before the schedule is released, please take that into consideration.

Please keep in mind that authors whose paper has been accepted for the AERA Annual Meeting are required to upload their full paper to the All Academic System no later than March 8, 2019. If you do not upload a full paper by the deadline, the initial submission will constitute the final paper. The All Academic System will reopen in February so that you may upload a copy of your final paper. Access to uploaded papers is available to all participants in the assigned session. Also, the deadline for program changes is March 1, 2019. This includes changes to paper titles, session titles, and authors, as well as Session Chairs and Discussants.

AERA in addition encourages authors to participate voluntarily in the AERA Online Paper Repository. You already had the option to indicate your preference upon submission of your paper. If you did not elect the option at the time of submission and would like to do so, you will be instructed on how to do so when you receive notification that the system is open to upload your final paper.

Copies of all 2019 Annual Meeting program related e-mail correspondence sent from the All Academic System are available online in your personal "Message Center." This link is available in the Submitter menu of the All Academic System once you have signed in.

Registration and housing for the 2019 Annual Meeting will open the last week of November. All presenters must register for the meeting. Please plan on registering early to take advantage of the Early Bird rate and select the hotel of your choice.

If you have additional questions or concerns, please contact the AERA Meetings Team at annualmtg@aera.net or 202-238-3200. We look forward to seeing you in Toronto, Canada, Friday, April 5 – Tuesday, April 9, 2019.

Sincerely,

2019 AERA Annual Meeting General Program Chair

Jennifer Jellison
