

Acceptance emails

Dear Yanyan,

Thank you so much for your submission to the International Perspectives on University Teaching and Learning symposium to be held May 30-June 1 in Orlando. I am pleased to inform you that we have accepted your essay "The Need for Flexibility in Practical Training for Professional Degree Programs" to be published in the Conversation Starter and look forward to the final product. Essayists are also invited to help lead the final Roundtable discussion June 1 at 11 a.m.

If you have not already done so, please submit your conference registration here:

www.auburn.edu/academic/international/its. Information about the conference hotel is available here:

<http://www.auburn.edu/academic/international/its/travel-details.php>. We recommend booking early in order to take advantage of the conference rate.

Please submit your final essay to me via e-mail by April 27 if at all possible. If you'll need additional time, please let me know.

I look forward to seeing you at the Symposium! Don't hesitate to let me know if I can answer any additional questions for you.

Best,

Jenn

Jennifer L. Mason

Director of International Initiatives

Office of International Programs

Auburn University

www.auburn.edu/international

Yanyan,

I apologize—I made a mistake on my initial e-mail. We have accepted your essay "Exploring the Chinese ESL learners' preferred classroom environment and language learning strategies."

Best,

Jenn

Jennifer L. Mason

Director of International Initiatives

Office of International Programs

Auburn University