1. Course Number: ADED 8970
Course Title: Topics in Adult Education
Credit Hours: 1-6 semester hours (variable)
Prerequisites: Departmental approval
Corequisites: None
2. Date Syllabus Prepared: 2010
3. Texts: Readings will be taken from journals, textbooks, dissertations, research monographs, government documents, and other resources related to the specific topic.
4. Course Description: This course will provide advanced students with an in-depth exposure to current and classical readings within a specific area of specialization. Students will analyze the readings critically in light of implications for their areas of specialization and will be required to demonstrate a synthesis of the readings.
5. Course Objectives: Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
  - Critically evaluate classic and current readings on a specialized topic.
  - Summarize salient points of a reading in logical fashion.
6. Course Content: The content and schedule for the course will be determined by a contract between the student and the supervising faculty member. Students will meet individually or in small groups with the professor to discuss assigned readings.
7. Course Requirements/Evaluation: Course requirements for the directed readings will be determined by contract between the professor and the student. However, students as a minimum will be required to develop:

A. An annotated bibliography of readings

B. An analysis from each individual reading:

1. For each non-researched-based reading, the following components are required:
  - a. What is your immediate initial response to this reading?
  - b. Provide a global overview of the reading. (Summarize the important themes of the reading.)
  - c. What are the arguments the author uses to support these themes? What facts are used to support the author's position? Give examples.
  - d. Are there statements made by the author that tend to weaken the article's themes? If so, which statement do damage? Why?
  - e. What are the educational implications/ramifications for the issue(s) discussed in this article?
2. For each research-based reading, the following information should be provided:
  - a. Study Title
  - b. Journal Reference
  - c. Purpose/Research Questions
  - d. Procedures
  - e. Findings
  - f. Implications of Research for Education

C. An assessment (5-15 pages) summary in which students synthesize the important trends and findings of the readings. Students may be able to formulate hypotheses based upon their readings for future research directions. These readings would be supplemental to Chapter II - Review of Literature of the dissertation.

Evaluation Procedures: The final grade for the course will be based on the completion of the documentation of completed research, refereed articles, and readings.

8. Class Policy Statements:

- A. Students are expected to participate in all class discussions and participate in all exercises. It is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor if assignment deadlines are not met. Students are responsible for initiating arrangements for missed work.
- B. Attendance is required at each class meeting. If an exam is missed, a make-up exam will be given only for University-approved excuses as outlined in the Tiger Cub. Arrangement to take the make-up exam must be made in advance. Students who miss an exam because of illness need a doctor's statement for verification of sickness and should clear the absence with the instructor the day they return to class. Other unavoidable absence from campus must be documented and cleared with the instructor in advance. There will be no unannounced quizzes.

- C. Students who need accommodations are asked to arrange a meeting during office hours the first week of classes, or as soon as possible if accommodations are needed immediately. If you have a conflict with my office hours, an alternative time can be arranged. To set up this meeting, please contact me via email or office telephone. Bring a copy of your Accommodation Memo and an Instructor Verification form to the meeting. If you do not have an Accommodation Memo but need accommodations, please make an appointment with the Program for Students with Disabilities at 1244 Haley Center, (334) 844-2096 (V/TT).
- D. The University Academic Honesty Code and the Tiger Cub Rules and Regulations pertaining to cheating will apply to this class.
- E. As faculty, staff, and students interact in professional settings, they are expected to demonstrate professional behaviors as defined in the College's conceptual framework. These professional commitments or dispositions are listed below:
  - Engage in responsible and ethical professional practices
  - Contribute to collaborative learning communities
  - Demonstrate a commitment to diversity
  - Model and nurture intellectual vitality
