Attend all seminar sessions, be prepared when coming to seminar, and actively engage in class and related activities. See attendance policy for additional information.

B. Personal -- professional -- scholar visioning paper and action plan (20 points)

Your personal vision should be continuously developing. This is an opportunity to capture a snapshot early in your doctoral program. You may structure your paper in the way that best suits you, however please be sure to address the following questions in a substantial and meaningful way:

- What are your personal -- professional -- scholar core values? How do they converge? Diverge?
- What is your personal – professional – scholar purpose/mission?
- Why did you enroll in this doctoral program? What do you hope to do with your doctoral degree?
- Where do your personal, professional, and scholarly visions converge? Is there a “sweet spot” where you might find a dissertation topic? What is it? What do you know about that topic so far? What do you still need to learn? [This should be a substantial section of your reflection – share details!]
- How will you translate your vision into action? Be specific...Think about your strengths and opportunities for continuous learning and development...

C. Research Team Presentation (25 points total)

Each research team will form around one chapter (chs 3 – 9) of the New Agenda text.

Within the team, individuals will be responsible for finding and reviewing (annotated bibliography) at least 5 unique empirical references related directly to the New Agenda chapter (The articles you find must have been published since 2004 and NOT be cited in New Agenda.). Each individual will earn 2 points per annotated bibliography (See form for format). As a group, each research team will prepare a review of research presentation (power point) based on the collective findings of all team articles.

D. Individual Literature Review (25 points total)

Each individual will be responsible for writing a 5 page literature review that answers a key question from your research team 's project. (Each individual must identify a unique question.) Yes, you may include literature beyond those used for your group's presentation.

E. Ropes Course Reflection (20 points total)

Each individual will write a substantial and meaningful personal reflection related to the ropes course experience. The reflection should include insights related to your individual leadership and learning AND insights related to your cohort's team work. How will what you learned on the ropes course influence your work as a leader? How will what you learned on the ropes course influence your doctoral study in this cohort?

9. Grading

The final grade for the course will be based on the point scale listed in the course requirements. Students receiving a D or F may be dropped from educational leadership courses for the remaining semesters and may have the opportunity to begin the program with the next cohort group. Alternatively, they may be dropped from the program. Grades for the EDLD seminar will be A-F. To receive a passing grade of C or above students MUST BE PRESENT FOR ALL CLASS SESSIONS, unless excused according to university policy.

Please submit all written assignments to the appropriate Canvas assignment by attaching your file.

A. Attendance: For EDLD 7520, class attendance and punctuality are expected and required. Students must meet the assignment deadlines described in the syllabus.

B. Excused absences: Students are granted excused absences (In an asynchronous distance course, absences may translate into submitting late assignment/s to Canvas). Late assignment submission may be excused for the following reasons: illness of the student or serious illness of a member of the student's immediate family, the death of a member of the student's immediate family, trips for student organizations sponsored by an academic unit, trips for university classes, trips for participation in intercollegiate athletic events, subpoena for a court appearance, and religious holidays – as detailed in the Student Policy eHandbook \(www.auburn.edu/studentpolicies\). Students who wish to have an excused absence (or submit late work) for any other reason must contact the instructor in advance of the absence to request permission. The instructor will weigh the merits of the request and render a decision. When feasible, the student must notify the instructor prior to the occurrence of any excused absences, but in no case shall such notification occur more than one week after the absence. Appropriate documentation for all excused absences is required. Please see the Student Policy eHandbook \(www.auburn.edu/studentpolicies\) for more information on excused absences.

- C. Make-Up Policy: Arrangement to make up a missed major examination/assignment (e.g., hour exams, mid-term exams, major papers) due to properly authorized excused absences must be initiated by the student within one week of the end of the period of the excused absences(s). Except in unusual circumstances, such as the continued absence of the student or the advent of university holidays, a make-up exam will take place within two weeks of the date that the student initiates arrangements for it. Except in extraordinary circumstance, no make-up exams will be arranged during the last three days before the final exam period begins.
- D. Accommodations: Students who need accommodations are asked to electronically submit their approved accommodations through AU Access and to arrange a meeting during office hours the first week of classes, or as soon as possible if accommodations are needed immediately. If you have a conflict with my office hours, an alternate time can be arranged. To set up this meeting, please contact me by e-mail. If you have not established accommodations through the Office of Accessibility, but need accommodations, make an appointment with the Office of Accessibility, 1228 Haley Center, 844-2096 (V/TT)

All academic honesty violations or alleged violations of the SGA Code of Laws will be reported to the Office of the Provost, which will then refer the case to the Academic Honesty Committee.

Please note:

- Copying and/or pasting other individuals' work and then presenting it as your own (intentional or unintentional) is considered plagiarism and is in direct violation of the Honesty Code. Violations of the Honesty Code may result in a zero for the assignment, a failing grade for the course, suspension and/or expulsion from the university.
- *I expect you to produce original work for this class. You may not submit work for this class that you have previously completed for a different class. Research Team Presentation Project Overview

Objectives:

- Begin to apply the research and writing skills you will need to continuously develop during your doctoral program as preparation for researching and writing a high quality dissertation.
- Work effectively as a team to integrate, prepare and present an engaging and informative group presentation based on your individual research.
- Learn about the current state of research in educational leadership and begin to identify possible areas of interest for your dissertation research.

More Detailed Description

Phase I – Defining your research focus

- Form your group around one of the New Agenda chapters (3 – 9)
- Read your chapter for August 30th 's class.
- Relate The Craft's readings to your New Agenda chapter for September 6th's class – have notes to guide your participation in class discussion.
- Begin to identify possible lines of inquiry for your individual research.

Phase II – Researching and Annotated Bibliographies (approximately 9/6 – 10/4)

- Define each team member's line of inquiry for researching and selecting related research articles (each individual needs to find 5 unique articles) since 2004 and NOT cited in the New Agenda text.
- Each time you individually select an article, post the citation to your group's Google Doc references page – Be sure the article is not already cited there!
- Write an annotated bibliography of each of your five articles – note due dates on syllabus
- Share your annotated bibliographies with your group members.

Phase III – Developing a Group Presentation (approximately 10/6 – 10/18)

- As a group you will present the CURRENT STATE of Educational Research in your line of inquiry.
- Your presentation should build on your group's foundational chapter from the New Agenda text and end with ideas for future dissertation work.
- You want to be sure you integrate each individual's research findings into a coherent, practical, and engaging presentation.

Phase IV – Presentation – December 1, 2012
