

Dear Mike Cook,

Thank you for your proposal submission for the 2025 NCTE Annual Convention, “Dream Boldly.” The response to the Call for Proposals was enthusiastic and inspiring. It was a great honor to learn about the work of our colleagues, and selecting from the proposals was extremely difficult. Proposals underwent an extensive peer-review process, with each being considered by at least four different reviewers.

I am pleased to inform you that your proposal[s] below has been accepted for the 2025 NCTE Annual Convention that will be held November 20–23 in Denver, Colorado.

Abstract Title	Status	Role
Writing Boldly Towards a Brighter Future	Accepted	Author
Teaching English Boldly: Inquiry, Advocacy, and Transformation Through English Methods Courses	Accepted	Author
Dreaming of Humane and Equitable Feedback Practices: De-Centering Grades and Centering Students as Learners and Co-creators	Accepted	Author

Please note the following:

- We will share the date and time of sessions this summer and will ask you to confirm your participation.
- All sessions will be presented in person.

- Convention registration is required for all presenters.

If you have more than three accepted proposals with speaking roles (See our multiple speaking roles policy), please email NCTEEvents@ncte.org to let us know which proposal(s) you'd like us to remove you from.

Registration, housing information, and program details will be added to the Annual Convention website in the coming weeks as they become available. Please send questions to the NCTEEvents Team at NCTEEvents@ncte.org.

Looking forward to seeing you in Denver,

Antero Garcia
NCTE President-Elect
2025 NCTE Annual Convention Program Chair
