

Journeys of Anti-Racist Mathematics Educators: Highlighting the Voices of Major Stakeholders

Sat, 10/28: 8:00 AM - 9:00 AM

512

Session

60 Minutes

DC Convention Center

Room: Ballroom A

Description

In this interactive session, we will discuss the work that students, teachers, parents, administrators, and community leaders have done to create anti-racist mathematics education learning spaces for students from different races/ethnicities, genders, and socioeconomic backgrounds. Activities, vignettes, stories, and action steps will be shared.

Lead Speaker

Marilyn Strutchens, Marilyn E. Strutchens

Co-Speaker(s)

Jennifer Bay-Williams, University of Louisville

Gladys Krause, William & Mary

Dorothy Y. White, University of Georgia

Audience

General Interest

Session Content Level

In-Depth

Topics

Expanding the Narrative of Who Belongs