

A NEW WAY OF EXPLORING KOREA

2016 Hangeul Party

한글파티

Enjoy Modern Korean Calligraphy!

April 23, 2016 9:30am - noon

Location Hubert & Grace Harris Senior Center | 425 Perry St. Auburn, AL 36830

Fees & Registration Free and open to the public. Space is limited and offered on a first come first served basis.

Hosted by Auburn University Office of International Programs and The Korea Center

Byoung Chul Park, an outstanding Korean calligrapher, will show the participants the art of calligraphy with special brushes on Korean paper, Hanji. The demonstration presents various facets of Korean calligraphy, which constitutes an intricate convergence of characters and design forms. Using a variety of writing techniques, the artist transcribes Korean poems and literature into flowing strokes of "grass hand," the bold, angular characters known as "running hand," and several other styles. The participants will unfold their senses in the movement of the brush and patterns of ink, a delicate dance between the lines and spaces. With these living forms of art, they can explore the profound range of human expression in Korean alphabet and design.

한글이야기 Story of Korean