

2019

AUBURN UNIVERSITY FALL COMMENCEMENT

CONGRATULATIONS

To the Class of 2019,

Today marks a great accomplishment in your lives. You, and your families, have invested a great deal to make your graduation a reality and have every right to be proud. This is a truly remarkable achievement. Savor this rare moment in time.

As you make plans toward beginning your respective careers, I sincerely urge you to reap the benefits that come with attaining one of the finest educations available in this rich and blessed country. Earning a college degree does not signal the end of the learning experience. Continue asking questions throughout life, and never stop learning. You have the potential to go beyond the standards set by society. You have the potential to surpass many of the challenges life will place in front of you.

During your time here, you lived an Auburn experience that was all your own. Those memories of Auburn will become more treasured as the years pass. Wherever you go in life, a part of this great university goes with you. While you are not alone in earning an Auburn degree today, I gladly remind you that you are, and will always be, a member of the Auburn Family.

Good luck and War Eagle!

ALMA MATER AND NATIONAL ANTHEM

ALMA MATER

On the rolling plains of Dixie
'Neath the sun kissed sky
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
Banners high.

To thy name we'll sing thy praise
From hearts that love so true
And pledge to thee our loyalty
The ages through.

We hail thee, Auburn, and we vow
To work for thy just fame,
And hold in memory as we do now
Thy cherished name.

Composed by Bill Wood, 1924

Word Revision, Emma O'Rear Foy, 1960

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O say can you see,
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
and the home of the brave?

Music by John Stafford Smith, 1780

Lyrics by Francis Scott Key, 1814

Adopted as the national anthem of the United States, 1931

MICHAEL O'NEILL

A native of Alabama, Michael O'Neill holds a degree in economics from Auburn University. He began his acting career under the mentorship of Will Geer, and his daughter Ellen, at the Theatricum Botanicum in Los Angeles.

O'Neill is a renowned actor who will soon be seen as "Larry Mills" in the new NBC drama series, Council Of Dads, and as "Chaplain Kendricks" in the feature film, Clemency, which won the 2019 Sundance Film Festival Grand Jury Prize. Recent appearances for O'Neill include the series' Jack Ryan, The Romanoffs, The Resident, 11.22.63, Shooter, S.W.A.T., and the final season of Scandal. Previous television credits include his four seasons on the award winning Sundance TV series, Rectify; the CBS series, Extant with Halle Berry; and A&E's Bates Motel. O'Neill's TV roles include Grey's Anatomy, The West Wing, Necessary Roughness, Vegas, The Grim Sleeper, NCIS, Sons of Anarchy, and The Unit.

In feature films, O'Neill played FDA Agent "Richard Barkley" in the award winning Dallas Buyers Club. His vast credits include J. Edgar, Green Zone, Transformers, Secondhand Lions, Traffic, Sea of Love, and Seabiscuit. He recently completed two feature films, The Stand at Paxton County and Indivisible.

O'Neill has served on the board of the Hollywood Branch of the Screen Actors Guild. He has often participated in the SAG-AFTRA Foundation's BookPALS program by reading to elementary school children. He has also been involved in Teach for America, Habitat for Humanity, and Focus on Recovery in Birmingham, Alabama.

O'Neill is married to Mary O'Keefe O'Neill and they have three daughters, Ella, Annie, and Molly.

ROBERT DUMAS

Robert W. Dumas is chairman, president, and CEO of AuburnBank and Auburn National Bancorporation, Inc. He was appointed to the Board of Trustees by former Gov. Robert Bentley and confirmed by the Senate on April 10, 2012, to represent the 3rd District.

Dumas earned a bachelor's degree in business administration with a major in finance from Auburn University in 1976. He is actively involved in many civic and charitable organizations within the Lee County community and has served on the Auburn University College of Business Advisory Council. He currently serves as a director of the Alabama Bankers Association and has previously served as chairman of the association. He also serves as a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta and the East Alabama Medical Center. He is a lifetime member of the Auburn Alumni Association and is married to the former Martha Butz, who holds two degrees from Auburn University. Their two children are also graduates of Auburn University and both reside in Auburn with their families.

PROVOST BILL HARDGRAVE

Bill Hardgrave began serving as Auburn University's provost and senior vice president for academic affairs in January 2018. As chief academic officer and president of the Auburn Research and Technology Foundation, Hardgrave leads Auburn's colleges and schools and oversees the institution's instruction, research, and outreach programs. Hardgrave served as dean and Wells Fargo Professor of the Harbert College of Business from August 2010 through December 2017. In that role, Hardgrave oversaw the growth of the college and launched the Auburn University RFID (radio frequency identification) Lab, the Geospatial Research and Applications Center, and the Center for Supply Chain Innovation.

Prior to Auburn, Hardgrave held the Bradberry Chair in information systems in the Sam M. Walton College of Business at the University of Arkansas and served as executive director of the Information Technology Research Institute, which he established in 1999. He is an internationally recognized scholar in the field of information systems and has published several books and articles in leading academic journals.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia worn during graduation is based on attire from the 12th and 13th centuries when universities were being established. Academic dress and accoutrements have been used in higher education in the United States since colonial times. To maintain tradition and recognition of academic regalia, the symbolism of pattern and color have remained largely unchanged since the Middle Ages. In 1895, an intercollegiate commission adopted a standardized code for the use of academic gowns, hoods, and caps, which included regulation of style and materials. Colors were prescribed to represent different fields of learning. Since then, the majority of colleges and universities in the United States, including Auburn, have upheld the code.

GOWNS

Except for a few universities, academic gowns are all black. The bachelor's gown is the simplest of the three types. The master's gown is similar but has sleeves with an extra long extension. Representing the highest degree, the doctoral gown is fuller throughout and has pleated bell-shaped sleeves. It is trimmed with a velvet band that circles the neck and descends the front, and it has velvet bars on the sleeves.

ACADEMIC HOODS

Academic hoods have endured as the sign of a scholar, and increased symbolism through color and material. Master's hoods are edged in velvet in the color of the candidate's major field. The hood's satin lining shows Auburn's official colors. A doctoral hood is longer and larger than the master's. A doctor of philosophy's hood has dark blue velvet-bound edges and the doctor of audiology has green.

The orange and blue satin lining shows that the degree was conferred at Auburn University. The faculty who march in the academic processional show a range of colors marking their diverse fields, degrees, and institutions.

The traditional rule for academic hoods is that a candidate for a degree should not wear the hood until the degree is conferred. However, at Auburn, master's degrees are conferred en masse, therefore degree candidates wear hoods throughout the ceremony. Doctoral degree recipients are hooded by their major professor during the ceremony. These candidates do not wear the hood during the academic processional, but receive their hood when the degree is conferred.

CAPS AND TASSELS

A black mortar board is the typical headwear worn, with some faculty wearing black tams. All caps have tassels. Students earning a bachelor’s degree have tassel colors representing their fields. They begin the ceremony with the tassels on the right front side; after all degrees are conferred, they are instructed to move the tassels to the left side. Faculty and candidates for master’s and doctoral degrees already wear their gold tassels on the left side.

STOLES, CORDS, AND MEDALS

In addition to the orange stoles worn by student marshals, some graduates wear regalia signifying academic achievements or membership in organizations, primarily academic honor societies. Students graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, or cum laude wear yellow cords. The Honors College recognizes its graduates with silver medals. Students inducted into Phi Kappa Phi, an honor society incorporating all fields of study, may wear cords of interwoven gold and blue. Some schools and colleges have honor societies unique to their discipline, and students selected for membership wear stoles, cords or medallions representing them. Like hoods, each color and pattern is unique to the honor.

ACADEMIC SYMBOLS

MACE

In ancient Rome, what would later be called a mace was carried at the head of processing civil authorities. By the Middle Ages, the Catholic Church similarly used a mace, which also became associated with the civil authority of monarchies. Today, the United Kingdom's House of Commons still presents a mace to mark the opening of daily sessions being open and legal. The U.S. House of Representatives adopted this practice in 1789, establishing the tradition of the Sergeant at Arms carrying the mace into the chamber to be placed near the Speaker of the House.

As an established symbol of authority, maces in the academic setting were adopted to show that a president represents the governing body of the school. Maces are used in graduation ceremonies to demonstrate that a school has the legal authority to grant degrees. Auburn's mace was created in fall 2015 from the wood of the beloved Auburn Oaks, representing the Board of Trustees' legal authority and linking to a symbol that is laden with meaning to the Auburn Family. The Auburn mace is approximately 42 inches tall and is carried by the macebearer, one of the faculty leaders from the graduation committee.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are banners that originated in medieval Italy to identify a state or office. At Auburn commencements, each college and school is represented by a unique gonfalon, carried into the ceremony by a student marshal selected from the graduating class. The university gonfalon is carried by the faculty marshal. Additionally, smaller gonfalons stand on the edge of the floor to designate the seating area for each participating college and school.

AUBURN UNIVERSITY: THE HISTORIC HOME OF THE AUBURN FAMILY

Owing much to the past, Auburn's greater debt remains ever to the future.

Auburn University today is a comprehensive land-, sea- and space-grant institution—among the few that hold that distinction—occupying more than 1,840 acres and helping fulfill the dreams of more than 30,000 students. The university began, though, as the small, more humble East Alabama Male College, which was chartered in 1856 and opened its doors in 1859 as a private liberal arts institution. From 1861 to 1866, the college was closed because of the Civil War. The college had begun an affiliation with the Methodist Church before the war. Due to dire financial straits, the church transferred legal control of the institution to the state in 1872, making it the first land-grant college in the south to be established separate from the state university. It thus became the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama.

A land-grant college or university is an institution that has been designated by its state legislature or Congress to receive the benefits of the Morrill Acts of 1862 and 1890.

The original mission of these institutions, as set forth in the first Morrill Act, was to teach agriculture, military tactics, mechanical arts, as well as classical studies, so that members of the working classes could obtain a liberal, practical education.

Women were admitted in 1892, making Auburn the oldest four-year, coeducational school in the state and the second-oldest in the Southeast. In 1899, the name was again changed to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. In 1960, the school officially acquired the name it has long been called and one more in keeping with its location, size and mission—Auburn University. The institution has experienced its greatest growth since World War II, and now has more than 230,000 alumni and over 320,000 degrees awarded.

AUBURN UNIVERSITY – THE HISTORIC HOME OF THE AUBURN FAMILY

Chartered in 1856, Auburn University opened in 1859 and became affiliated with the Methodist Church. Throughout the years, the institution has had four official names:

- East Alabama Male College (1856-72)
- Agricultural and Mechanical College (1872-99)
- Alabama Polytechnic Institute (1899-1960)
- Auburn University (1960-present)

Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) was established as a separately administered branch campus in 1967. The institution has developed rapidly, especially since moving to a 500-acre campus east of Montgomery in 1971. Fall 2019 enrollment at AUM is approximately 5,323.

ALMA MATER AND NATIONAL ANTHEM

ALMA MATER

On the rolling plains of Dixie
'Neath the sun kissed sky
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
Banners high.

To thy name we'll sing thy praise
From hearts that love so true
And pledge to thee our loyalty
The ages through.

We hail thee, Auburn, and we vow
To work for thy just fame,
And hold in memory as we do now
Thy cherished name.

Composed by Bill Wood, 1924

Word Revision, Emma O'Rear Foy, 1960

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O say can you see,
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
O say does that star-spangled
banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
and the home of the brave?

Music by John Stafford Smith, 1780

Lyrics by Francis Scott Key, 1814

Adopted as the national anthem of the United States, 1931

RON SANDERS

Ron Sanders, a 1982 Auburn graduate with a bachelor's degree in marketing, serves as president of Worldwide Theatrical Distribution and Warner Bros. Home Entertainment. In this role, he oversees one of today's largest global organizations that releases movies in theaters, delivers film and television shows to homes and devices, and helms a multi-billion-dollar games business. Warner Bros. achieved the largest box office in its history in 2018 with Sanders overseeing several blockbusters, including, Aquaman, Steven Spielberg's Ready Player One and A Star is Born (which was honored with eight Academy Award nominations including Best Picture). Hired straight out of Auburn, Sanders spent almost 10 years in the consumer goods business with marketing giant Procter & Gamble.

A regular visitor to Auburn, he is an emeritus member of the advisory council at the Raymond J. Harbert College of Business and served on their recent campaign committee. He and his wife are supporters of Harbert through a study abroad scholarship endowment and support the new Gogue Performing Arts Center with an endowment for the celebration of music in film. Sanders also serves on the advisory board of the Northwestern University School of Communications.

MICHAEL A. DEMAIORIBUS

DeMaioribus earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in electrical engineering from Auburn in '77 and '78, respectively. In 2016, after 39 years, he retired as executive vice president from Dynetics, Inc., a high-technology company headquartered in Huntsville, Alabama. He now consults through DeMaioribus Technologies LLC.

DeMaioribus is past chair of Auburn's Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering industrial advisory board and the Auburn Alumni Engineering Council. He was recognized as an Auburn Distinguished Engineer in 2008, and was inducted into the State of Alabama Engineering Hall of Fame in 2015.

DeMaioribus is actively involved in the community. He serves on the Greater Huntsville Community Foundation Board of Directors, previously served on the Huntsville Botanical Garden board and is past chair of the United Way of Madison County. He and his wife, the former Leta Hornbuckle of Huntsville, were married in 1975. They have four married children, all of whom attended Auburn University, and nine grandchildren.

He was confirmed by the Senate as an Auburn trustee on Feb. 14, 2013, and his term will expire on Feb. 13, 2020.

PAUL JACOBSON

Paul Jacobson is executive vice president and chief financial officer responsible for Delta Air Lines' global finance organization. Throughout his career, Jacobson has been a key contributor to Delta's strategies and has been instrumental in a number of initiatives, including the purchase of the Trainer refinery, balance sheet initiatives that have resulted in nearly $10 billion in debt reduction, the expansion of the T4 facility at JFK and the airline's capital allocation strategy.

Jacobson's contributions have been instrumental in Delta's return to the S&P 500 index as well as upgrades to Delta's credit rating in recent years. The work of Jacobson and his team was recognized by Air Finance Journal when it named Delta Airline of the Year.

Since joining Delta as a financial analyst in 1997, Jacobson has held several positions, including senior vice president and treasurer for Delta. In March 2012, he was named chief financial officer.

Jacobson currently serves on the Board of Trustees for the Auburn University Foundation, Board of Visitors at the Owen Graduate School of Management as well as the Raymond J. Harbert College of Business advisory board in Auburn.

Jacobson graduated from Auburn University with a bachelor's degree in aviation management and later earned a Master of Business Administration from the Owen Graduate School of Management at Vanderbilt University.

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES FOR MONDAY, MAY 6, 2 P.M.

GLADY'S TUCKER HEARD

Gladys Tucker Heard is a member of the Harrison School of Pharmacy Class of 2019. She served as president of the Pharmacy Student Council during the 2017-18 academic year. A native of El Paso, Texas, she earned a bachelor's degree from Hampton University and a Master of Science in pharmaceutical science from Touro University California. During her time at HSOP, she was involved in several organizations, including the student council, Phi Delta Chi, Phi Lambda Sigma honor society, HSOP Ambassadors and others. She is married to Herman Dorian Heard.

STEPHEN DAVIS

Stephen J. Davis earned his doctorate of pharmacy from Auburn University's Harrison School of Pharmacy in 2008. After completing a two-year pharmacy administration residency, Davis joined Texas Children's Hospital in Houston, Texas, holding the positions of manager of ambulatory pharmacy services, manager of the central pharmacy services and manager of specialty pharmacy services.

In 2016, Davis was honored for outstanding alumni achievement by the Auburn University Alumni Association. In 2017, he was recognized by the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists (ASHP) with the Distinguished Service Award.

Earlier this year, Davis took a position as director of health system strategy with Shields Health Solutions, the healthcare industry's first, largest and most experienced specialty pharmacy integrator.

Davis has been married more than 10 years to his wife, Shantera. They have two daughters, Rylee and Avery.

DARRELL CRAVEN

Darrell Craven is president of the Auburn Pharmacy Alumni Association (APAA), the oldest alumni association on Auburn's campus. As president, Craven works alongside the Office of Development and Alumni Affairs to raise funds for scholarships and faculty, assist students with convention travel, promote alumni events and advocate for the profession.

Craven earned his bachelor's degree in pharmacy from Auburn in 1982. He has worked for Eli Lilly and Company, Sanofi, and now serves as the associate director of retail trade relations at Alkermes, a biopharmaceutical company that focuses on central nervous system diseases.

Craven and his family established the Craven Family Endowed Scholarship in the Harrison School of Pharmacy. He serves on the APAA Board of Directors and the dean's advisory council. Craven is also a member of the 1856 Society and Foy Society.

PAMELA BOYD REEVE

Pamela Boyd Reeve is a 1983 graduate of the Harrison School of Pharmacy. Originally from Birmingham, Alabama, she is a career community pharmacist. For the last 22 years, she has been a practicing pharmacist with Ritch's Pharmacy in Mountain Brook, Alabama, and is a certified preceptor for pharmacy students.

Reeve has served as a member of the dean's advisory council and co-established the Reeve and Sorrell Community Pharmacy Annual Scholarship within the school.

She is married to Robert Reeve and the couple has two children, Nathaniel and Leah. Nathaniel is an Auburn graduate who went on to complete medical school at the University of Alabama at Birmingham. Leah completed her undergraduate degree in biomedical sciences at Auburn, and is a member of Rho Chi and the HSOP Class of 2019.

SARAH B. NEWTON

Newton, former principal of Fayette Elementary School, was appointed to the Board of Trustees in 2004 to represent the 7th district. Her term expired on Feb. 9, 2012 and she was reappointed for another seven-year term on March 22, 2012. Her new term expires March 21, 2021.

Newton received a bachelor's degree in elementary education from Auburn in 1974 and has a master's degree and certification in administration from the University of Alabama. She is a retired administrator and teacher of elementary education. Presently, she is an educational consultant and works part time with AdvancED (SACS), a non-profit, accrediting agency that conducts on-site external reviews of PreK-12 schools.

She and her husband Bill Newton have three sons and two grandchildren.

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES FOR MONDAY, MAY 6, 6 P.M.

DR. R. DOUGLAS MECKES

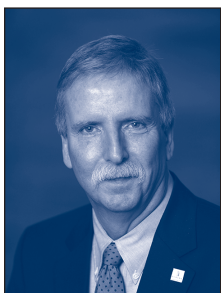

Dr. R. Douglas Meckes, Auburn College of Veterinary Medicine '75, has distinguished himself in his profession and has inspired others by his dedication to private veterinary practice, public service and service to the federal government. Formerly branch chief of the Food, Agriculture and Veterinary Defense Branch of the Office of Health Affairs in the U.S. Department of Homeland Security in Washington, D.C., Dr. Meckes currently serves as the state veterinarian of North Carolina.

His commitment to the highest professional and ethical standards has been recognized by his selection as a congressional fellow in the office of Sen. Chuck Hagel, and his service as assistant director of the government relations division of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Dr. Meckes practiced veterinary medicine and surgery in Apex, North Carolina, for 30 years, and his professional skills and entrepreneurship included operations of six veterinary hospitals and a large central hospital.

He has a deep conviction that community service should be an integral part of an individual's life, evidenced in his commitment as a volunteer and member of charitable and religious organizations. For 10 years, Dr. Meckes was an elected member of the Board of Commissioners in Apex, North Carolina.

FRANK F. BARTOL

Dr. Frank F. Bartol, a professor in the Department of Anatomy, Physiology and Pharmacology in the College of Veterinary Medicine, joined the Auburn University faculty in 1983. A Virginia native, he received his bachelor's degree from Virginia Tech, master's and doctorate degrees from the University of Florida through the Interdisciplinary Reproductive Biology Program, and advanced training in molecular biology in the Center for Animal Biotechnology at Texas A&M University. Bartol has served as associate dean for the Office of Research and Graduate Studies in the Auburn University College of Veterinary Medicine since 2009. His research in reproductive physiology and developmental biology has been supported by competitive grants from the National Institute of Food and Agriculture, the National Science Foundation and both private and international agencies. In 2005, Bartol was named Donald Henry Barron Lecturer by the University of Florida for "outstanding research and scholarly activities in the field of reproductive biology." He was named Alumni Professor at Auburn in 2009, and in 2017 he was recognized as a Distinguished Alumnus by the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Virginia Tech. He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Society of Animal Science, the American Society for Reproductive Immunology, the Society for the Study of Reproduction and the Society for Theriogenology. An advocate for the responsible use of animals in research and education, Bartol is a past chair of the Auburn Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee, a contributing author to the "Guide for the Care" and Use of Agricultural Animals in Research and Teaching and has served as chair of the animal ethics subcommittee for the Society for the Study of Reproduction since 2006.

BOB DUMAS

Dumas, the former chairman of the Alabama Bankers Association, director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Birmingham, Alabama, was appointed to the Board of Trustees by Gov. Robert Bentley and confirmed by the Senate on April 10, 2012, to represent the 3rd district. Dumas earned a bachelor's degree in business administration with an emphasis in finance from Auburn in 1976. His term expires on April 9, 2022.

Dumas is actively involved in many civic and charitable organizations within the Lee County community and has served on the Auburn University Raymond J. Harbert College of Business advisory council. He currently serves as a director of the Alabama Bankers Association and has previously served as chairman of the association.

He is a lifetime member of the Auburn Alumni Association and is married to the former Martha Butz, who holds two degrees from Auburn University. Their two children are also Auburn University graduates and reside in Auburn.

OATH OF A PHARMACIST

"I promise to devote myself to a lifetime of service to others through the profession of pharmacy.
In fulfilling this vow:

I will consider the welfare of humanity and relief of suffering my primary concerns.

I will apply my knowledge, experience and skills to the best of my ability to assure optimal outcomes for my patients.

I will respect and protect all personal and health information entrusted to me.

I will accept the lifelong obligation to improve my professional knowledge and competence.

I will hold myself and my colleagues to the highest principles of our profession's moral, ethical and legal conduct.

I will embrace and advocate changes that improve patient care.

I will utilize my knowledge, skills, experiences and values to prepare the next generation of pharmacists.

I take these vows voluntarily with the full realization of the responsibility with which I am entrusted by the public."

AUBURN UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

Established in 1892, the College of Veterinary Medicine is the oldest in the South and is the nation's seventh-oldest. The college has presented 6,899 Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine degrees and has alumni in all 50 states. Nearly 24,000 cases a year are treated through the teaching hospital, where real-world training is provided to future veterinarians. Award-winning research is conducted across the biosciences spanning basic, translational and clinical research. Funded research addresses animal biotechnology, bioengineering, cancer, diabetes/obesity, genetics, infectious diseases, molecular medicine, neuroscience, gene therapy, nanotechnology, rehabilitation, reproduction, small animal critical care, stem cell biology and veterinary sports medicine. To date, the College of Veterinary Medicine has awarded 648 MS and PhD degrees.

VETERINARIAN'S OATH

Being admitted to the profession of veterinary medicine, I solemnly swear to use my scientific knowledge and skills for the benefit of society through the protection of animal health and welfare, the prevention and relief of animal suffering, the conservation of animal resources, the promotion of public health and the advancement of medical knowledge.

I will practice my profession conscientiously, with dignity and in keeping with the principles of veterinary medical ethics.

I accept as a lifelong obligation the continual improvement of my professional knowledge and competence.

Han Fang

"Differential effects of niacin on adipose tissue inflammation, hepatic function and gut microbiota composition in C57BL/6J and B6129SF2/J mice," directed by Robert Judd, Department of Anatomy, Physiology, and Pharmacology.

GRADUATE DEGREES AWARDED August 2018 - May 2019

Master of Science (Biomedical Science Non-Thesis)

Amanda Brenna

"Pharmacokinetics of fenbendazole in canine CSF and plasma," directed by Amanda Taylor, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Joseph Fuller

"Long-term co-culture of equine synovial membrane and articular cartilage explants as an in vitro model of osteoarthritis," directed by Lindsey Boone, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Mary Geyer

"Endocrine fibroblast growth factors 19/21 and PPAR γ -based therapy for treatment of the metabolic syndrome," directed by Mahmoud Mansour, Department of Anatomy, Physiology, and Pharmacology.

Sonya Hansen

"Biofilm formation on central venous catheters in dogs with immune-mediated thrombocytopenia," directed by Kenden Kuo, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Karen Ho

"Defining rifampin's use in canine staphylococcal infections," directed by Amelia White, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Darin Kepler

"Evaluation of canine splenic nodules with B-mode ultrasound, shear wave elastography and microvascular imaging to determine benign or malignant disease," directed by John Hathcock, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Michelle LaRue

"CD4+CD25+ T cell Foxp3 expression is not increased in cats with cancer when compared to healthy controls," directed by Annette Smith, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Christopher Lee

"Radiographic evaluation of subcutaneously injected, water-soluble, iodinated contrast for lymphography in dogs," directed by Brad Matz, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Roxanne Rodriguez Galarza

"Ex vivo corneal permeation of nepafenac ophthalmic suspension in different species (porcine, canine, equine and feline corneas)," directed by Sue Duran, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Christopher Lanier

"Effect of in vitro lactic acidosis on equine platelet aggregation as measured by impedance aggregometry," directed by Elizabeth Spangler, Department of Pathobiology.

Master of Science (Biomedical Science Thesis)

Carla Barstow

"Effect of Omega 3, 6 and 9 fatty acids and Vitamin E on canine semen motility, morphology and cryopreservation," directed by Robyn Wilborn, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Haden Bunn

"Clinical applications of therapeutic drug monitoring in canine idiopathic epilepsy patients receiving levetiracetam," directed by Dawn Boothe, Department of Anatomy, Physiology, and Pharmacology.

Gustavo Ferlini Agne

"Pharmacokinetic and pharmacodynamic properties of orally administered torsemide in healthy horses," directed by Seungwoo Jung, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Laura Haysom

"Comparison of the gene encoding the thyroid-stimulating hormone receptor between hyperthyroid and non-hyperthyroid domestic cats," directed by Ellen Behrend, Department of Clinical Sciences.

Rebecca Jones

"Phage-GnRH constructs for population control of feral animals: evaluation in cats," directed by Tatiana Samoylova, Department of Pathobiology.

Leah McGlinchey

"Ex vivo comparison of the bursting strength of surgeon's knots compared to self-locking knots for closure of ventral midline celiotomy in horses," directed by R. Reid Hanson, Department of Clinical Sciences.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia worn during graduation is based on attire from the 12th and 13th centuries when universities were being established. Academic dress and accoutrements have been used in the United States since colonial times. To maintain tradition and recognition of academic regalia, little has changed in the symbolism of pattern and color since the Middle Ages. In 1895, an intercollegiate commission adopted a standardized code for the use of academic gowns, hoods and caps, which included regulation of style and materials. Colors were prescribed to represent different fields of learning. Since then, few revisions have been made to the code, which is followed by the majority of colleges and universities in the United States, including Auburn.

GOWNS

Except for a few universities, academic gowns are all black. The bachelor's gown is the simplest of the three types. The master's gown is similar but has sleeves with an extra long extension. Because it represents the highest degree, the doctoral gown is fuller throughout and has pleated bell-shaped sleeves. It is trimmed with a velvet band that circles the neck and descends the front, and it has velvet bars on the sleeves.

HOODS

Hoods were a common, practical item in the Middle Ages. They have endured as the sign of a scholar, losing their original function as a hood, but gaining symbolism through color and material. Master's hoods are edged in velvet in the color of the candidate's major field. The hood's satin lining shows Auburn's official colors. A doctoral hood is longer and larger than the master's. A doctor of philosophy's hood has dark blue velvet-bound edges and the doctor of audiology has green.

The orange and blue satin lining shows that the degree was conferred at Auburn. The faculty who march in the academic processional show a range of colors marking their degrees and institutions.

The traditional rule for hoods is that a candidate for a degree should not wear the hood until the degree is conferred. However, at Auburn, master's degrees are conferred en masse and degree candidates wear hoods throughout the ceremony. Recipients of the doctoral degree are hooded during the ceremony. These candidates do not wear the hood in the academic processional, but receive the hood when the degree is conferred.

CAPS AND TASSELS

A black mortar board is the typical headwear worn; some faculty have black tams. All caps have tassels. Students earning a bachelor's degree have tassel colors representing their fields. They begin the ceremony with the tassels on the right front side; after all degrees are conferred, they are instructed to move the tassels to the left side. Faculty and candidates for master's and doctoral degrees already wear their gold tassels on the left side.

STOLES, CORDS AND MEDALS

In addition to the orange stoles worn by student marshals, some graduates wear regalia signifying academic achievement or membership in organizations, primarily honor societies. Students graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude or cum laude wear yellow cords. The Honors College recognizes its graduates with silver medals. Students inducted into Phi Kappa Phi, an honor society incorporating all fields of study, may wear cords of interwoven gold and blue. Some schools and colleges have honor societies unique to their discipline, and students selected for membership wear stoles, cords or medallions representing them. Like hoods, each color and pattern is unique to the honor.

ACADEMIC SYMBOLS

MACE

In ancient Rome, what would later be called a mace was carried at the head of processing civil authorities. By the Middle Ages, the Catholic Church similarly used a mace, which also became associated with the civil authority of monarchies. Today, the United Kingdom's House of Commons still presents a mace to mark daily sessions being open and legal. The U.S. House of Representatives adopted this practice in 1789, establishing the tradition of the Sergeant at Arms carrying the mace into the chamber to be placed near the Speaker of the House.

As an established symbol of authority, maces in the academic setting were adopted to show that a president represents the governing body of the school. Maces have been used in graduation ceremonies to demonstrate that a school has the legal authority to grant degrees. Auburn's mace was created in fall 2015 from the wood of the beloved Auburn Oaks, thus representing the Board of Trustees' legal authority and linking to a symbol that is laden with meaning to the Auburn Family. The Auburn mace is approximately 42 inches tall and is carried by the macebearer, one of the faculty leaders of the graduation committee.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are banners that originated in medieval Italy to identify a state or office. At Auburn graduations and commencements, each college and school is represented by a unique gonfalon, carried into the ceremony by a student marshal selected from the graduating class. The university gonfalon is carried by the faculty marshal. Additionally, smaller gonfalons stand on the edge of the floor to designate the seating area for each participating college and school.

Owing much to the past, Auburn's greater debt remains ever to the future.

Auburn University today is a comprehensive land-, sea- and space-grant institution—among the few that hold that distinction—occupying more than 1,840 acres and helping fulfill the dreams of nearly 30,000 students. The university began, though, as the small, more humble East Alabama Male College, which was chartered in 1856 and opened its doors in 1859 as a private liberal arts institution. From 1861 to 1866, the college was closed because of the Civil War. The college had begun an affiliation with the Methodist Church before the war. Due to dire financial straits, the church transferred legal control of the institution to the state in 1872, making it the first land-grant college in the south to be established separate from the state university. It thus became the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama.

A land-grant college or university is an institution that has been designated by its state legislature or Congress to receive the benefits of the Morrill Acts of 1862 and 1890.

The original mission of these institutions, as set forth in the first Morrill Act, was to teach agriculture, military tactics, mechanical arts, as well as classical studies, so that members of the working classes could obtain a liberal, practical education.

Women were admitted in 1892, making Auburn the oldest four-year, coeducational school in the state and the second-oldest in the Southeast. In 1899, the name was again changed to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. In 1960, the school officially acquired the name it has long been called and one more in keeping with its location, size and mission—Auburn University. The institution has experienced its greatest growth since World War II, and now has more than 230,000 alumni and over 320,000 degrees awarded.

AUBURN UNIVERSITY – THE HISTORIC HOME OF THE AUBURN FAMILY

Chartered in 1856, Auburn University opened in 1859 and became affiliated with the Methodist Church. Throughout the years, the institution has had four official names:

- East Alabama Male College (1856-72)
- Agricultural and Mechanical College (1872-99)
- Alabama Polytechnic Institute (1899-1960)
- Auburn University (1960-present)

Auburn Montgomery was established as a separately administered branch campus in 1967. The institution has developed rapidly, especially since moving to a 500-acre campus east of Montgomery in 1971. Current enrollment at AUM is approximately 5,200.
