

January 2, 2025

Dear Members of the Search Committee,

I am writing to express my interest in the position of Dean of College of Nursing at Auburn University (AU). With a deep commitment to nursing education and a strong leadership background in academic settings, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to the continued growth of the AU College of Nursing.

Throughout my career, I have had the privilege of teaching in both undergraduate and graduate nursing programs, consistently prioritizing academic excellence and student success. My research, which has focused on the social determinants of health and disparities in maternal and infant health outcomes, aligns closely with the AU College of Nursing vision to address the needs of diverse populations. This research has not only advanced knowledge but also created numerous leadership opportunities, allowing me to mentor students and faculty, while promoting the transformative work of nurse researchers.

In my roles as Associate Dean for Research, Interim Department Chair, and Acting Dean at the University of Central Florida (UCF) College of Nursing, I have gained invaluable experience in academic leadership, which has shaped my approach to fostering innovation and driving institutional progress. These positions have provided me with extensive opportunities to refine my ability to lead with a clear, forward-thinking vision, inspiring and motivating diverse teams to work cohesively toward common goals. I am a strong supporter of interprofessional collaboration, ensuring that each team member feels valued and empowered to contribute their expertise. I have consistently offered steadfast support to my colleagues, cultivating an inclusive and supportive environment. By prioritizing open communication, mutual respect, and a shared commitment to the mission of the College, I have contributed to fostering a culture of continuous improvement and high standards in academic settings.

I am excited about the opportunity to bring my passion for nursing education, research, and leadership to the AU College of Nursing. I have outlined examples of my experiences and accomplishments that I believe will make a meaningful contribution to your College.

Fostered Excellence and Innovation in Nursing Education

As the Interim Chair for the Department of Nursing Practice at the UCF College of Nursing, I led critical initiatives to advance nursing education, enhance faculty collaboration, and build strong partnerships with clinical institutions. My work involved strategic leadership in managing a growing nursing program that has expanded significantly due to legislative funding, enabling the College to admit more pre-licensure BSN students. I collaborated closely with the Director of the traditional and second-degree BSN programs, clinical coordinators and clinical partners to secure clinical placements for our more than 750 pre-licensure students. A key achievement was the development of Dedicated Education Units with Orlando Health and Advent Health, two of our largest clinical partners, to expand clinical learning opportunities for our students. The Department of Nursing Practice also enrolls students in the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) program for Adult/Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioner, Adult/Gero Acute Care Nurse Practitioner, and Family Nurse Practitioner. I worked with the three DNP tracks directors and clinical partners to enhance the DNP program by fostering evidence-based practice projects and ensuring that clinical partnerships support student learning. I supported faculty in aligning our programs with the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) Essentials. I facilitated retreats where faculty could collaboratively revise the BSN and DNP programs' objectives and course objectives, ensuring the curriculum reflects the competencies needed in today's healthcare landscape. I have been supporting faculty in obtaining funds for their projects focused on modeling, simulation and training. Faculty are using high-fidelity simulators, telehealth, and virtual and augmented reality to train nursing students. I have also participated in discussions with leaders of Nemours hospital, a children's hospital with more than 100 pediatric specialties, to develop a Pediatric Nurse Practitioner DNP program. Through these efforts, I have consistently worked to ensure that our programs are preparing the next generation of Registered Nurses and Nurse Practitioners to meet the evolving demands of healthcare.

I have driven strategic planning efforts, including participating with leaders in the College of Nursing, College of Medicine, and College of Health Professions and Sciences at drafting the 2023-2028 Strategic Plan for UCF's Academic Health Sciences Center (AHSC). I was also a member of the AHSC Clinical Advisory Council which includes collaborations with UCFHealth with the goal of expanding the College of Nursing faculty clinical practice. I collaborated with faculty, staff and the leadership team in developing the strategic plan for the College of Nursing. I participated in Clinical Advisory Board meetings with leaders from healthcare systems, where we addressed critical issues such as the nursing shortage, strategies to increase student enrollment, and clinical placements.

In 2022, through a competitive process, UCF received a 5-year $2.7M funding from the Department of Education for the ENFERMERIA: Educating Nurses for Engagement, Research, Mentoring Excellence & Reinforcing Interpretation Access project to address the underrepresentation of Hispanic students in post-baccalaureate nursing programs. As Co-Investigator, I collaborate with other team members to provide faculty training on culturally-aware mentoring; and expand existing career mentoring, advising, and professional development activities for graduate students.

My commitment to lifelong learning has allowed me to promote a culture of innovation among faculty and students. As a Dean, I will collaborate closely with faculty, staff, students and the leadership team to build upon current strengths of the College of Nursing and support the College's growth. I will support faculty in maintaining high-quality academic programs, implementing new initiatives, and developing new programs. I will collaborate with faculty and clinical partners to prepare nursing students to transition into practice. I will support the faculty in exploring opportunities for interprofessional educational programs with faculty across the University and clinical partners. I will nurture existing partnerships and foster new relationships with the clinical partners.

Advanced Scholarship and Research

For the past six years, I have been the Associate Dean for Research at the UCF College of Nursing. One of the strategic goals of the College is to build the research and scholarship enterprise. Under my leadership, the College has increased its productivity in research and scholarship. In FY 23, the College was ranked # 35 among 84 Schools of Nursing who received NIH funding, as reported by the Blue Ridge Institute of Medical Research. Prior to my tenure to UCF, the College was not ranked among the Schools of Nursing. In FY 24, the College received $4.2M in research funding, an increase of more than $2.5M annually during my tenure at UCF. I was able to create a scholarly environment of support for research through multiple strategies. These included the development and institution of formal mentoring for faculty, managing the Office of Research resources to support submission of research applications, support for faculty applying for new funding opportunities including individualized input by me and obtaining external reviews, and providing mentoring and support for faculty in launching their research projects. I have supported faculty in establishing collaborations in research and scholarship with clinical partners from Advent Health and Orlando Health, the two largest medical centers in the Orlando metropolitan area. Under my leadership, the College received funding for the first pre- and post-doctoral fellows. I am committed to faculty success as evidenced by their scholarship.

My research is built upon 15 years of clinical experience as a Labor and Delivery Registered Nurse and a Women's Health Care Nurse Practitioner in private prenatal care clinics as well as medical centers in the Chicago metropolitan area. I have had a substantial impact with my interdisciplinary research program focused on improving birth outcomes among Black women, who disproportionately have higher rates of preterm birth than White women. I received ~$17M research funding as PI, Co-I and faculty mentor. I am the PI of one current NIH R01 study and two recently completed NIH R01 studies. In my first NIH R01 study, I was one of the few researchers to use a bio-psycho-social framework to examine the associations among neighborhood environment, racial discrimination, psychological stress, systemic inflammation, telomere length and preterm birth in a cohort of Black women. In my second NIH R01 study, we examined the associations of paternal social determinants of health with preterm birth among Black families. This is the first study to comprehensively consider paternal factors as a way to identify issues that may be most relevant for Black families. In my third NIH R01 study, we examine epigenetic aging as a potential pathway between social factors and preterm birth among Black women. In my NIH R15 study, nursing students had the rare opportunity to be involved in cutting-edge research bringing together the social factors and biological mechanisms related to preterm birth. I was the sponsor of a PhD student who received funding from NIH for her F31 pre-doctoral fellowship to examine DNA methylation in stress-related genes linking neighborhood disorder with preterm birth among Black women. I was also the sponsor of a post-doctoral fellow for her NIH F32 post-doctoral fellowship to examine the association of social determinants of health with gestational weight gain and infant birthweight among Black women. I am the sponsor of another post-doctoral fellow who examines the role of mother-father relationship on maternal health among Black families. I am also the primary mentor of two NIH K23 patient-oriented career development awards. I am committed to improving birth outcomes among Black families.

I have successfully secured significant external funding for research projects and established valuable partnerships with collaborators across multiple disciplines. Interprofessional collaboration is crucial for advancing research and addressing complex challenges in our world. My research team includes collaborators from epidemiology, medicine, immunology, epigenetics, statistics, and nursing. I have consistently disseminated my scholarship in peer-reviewed journals with more than 100 publications and 170 national and international peer-reviewed or invited presentations.

Throughout my career, I have nurtured talented researchers, provided mentorship, and promoted professional development opportunities to cultivate a vibrant and productive research community. In 2023, I was selected as an inductee into Sigma's International Nurse Researcher Hall of Fame in recognition of my achievements in and contribution to research, as well as mentoring of future nurse researchers. The International Nurse Researcher Hall of Fame recognizes "nurse researchers who have achieved significant and sustained national and/or international recognition for their work and whose research has influenced the profession and the people it serves". I am a Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing. I was also elected to be the Chair of the MNRS Research Committee and was invited to be a member of the NIH Healthcare and Health Disparities Study Section.

These experiences have equipped me with the necessary skills to lead and advance research and scholarship. As a Dean, I will maintain a supportive environment that fosters scholarship that builds upon the University's visibility as a research institution. I will collaborate with faculty to build on areas of strength and expand its research portfolio, aligning those priorities with key public health issues and funding priorities from NIH and other federal, state and local organizations. I will support faculty and students in increasing involvement in interprofessional collaborations across the University and in the community. I will support the implementation of the AU College of Nursing Strategic Plan for Transformative Research.

Ensured the Long-term Sustainability and Vibrance of the College

As part of the Leadership Team at the UCF College of Nursing, I provide input for decisions at the College level. In the past three years, the College received funding from the state legislature to increase enrollment into the pre-licensure BSN program to address the nursing shortage, and the PhD program to address the nursing faculty shortage. In 2023-2024, as a department chair, I supported the College in increasing enrollment of students in the pre-licensure BSN program and hired 13 faculty in the department to support the growth of the College. I participated with the Leadership Team in developing strategic goals for growing the pre-licensure BSN program, leveraging UCF's strengths to accommodate increased need for faculty, and supporting our clinical partners.

Further, I participate at the Leadership Team's monthly budget meetings where I share in managing a college annual budget of ~ $20M. As an interim Department Chair, I managed the department's budget of more than $7M. I manage the Office of Research budget and personnel. I am responsible for the supervision of the investigators, staff and trainees, maintaining the safety of our research participants, and juggling multiple protocols at once. I have been able to obtain funding from federal and professional organizations to support my research and my mentees' research projects, managing a budget of over $17M. As Acting Dean, I oversaw all administrative responsibilities and financial operations of the College.

I participate at the Dean's Advisory and Alumni Board meetings to discuss about growing partnerships and opportunities for alumni engagement, support for our nursing students, and accomplishments in the College. I am the Chatlos Foundation Endowed Chair in Nursing at the UCF College of Nursing. Through the endowment, I supported faculty and students in conducting their research. I have been meeting with the Senior Director of Advancement to discuss about opportunities to increase philanthropic donations for projects conducted by faculty and students. I have had the opportunity to meet with potential donors and present the state of nursing research in our College. I was invited by Dr. Cartwright, UCF President, to participate at luncheons in honor of donors for endowed chairs in the College of Nursing. I also had the privilege to participate at scholarship luncheons with donors who support our nursing students. In 2022, the UCF received funding for the ENFERMERIA program. The program includes an endowment of $1.2M of which $600K were matched donor funds. I collaborated with the Senior Director of Advancement in implementation of the endowment. As a Dean at AU College of Nursing, I will partner with the Development and Alumni Relations to enlarge the donor base. I will advocate for funding from federal, state, and philanthropy to advance the priorities of the College.

Committed to Advancing Health Equity

I have been mentoring students and faculty from diverse backgrounds to become nurse clinicians and researchers who will improve the health outcomes of underserved populations. I encourage them to consider the inequities that continue to shape our world and take active roles in alleviating these inequities. I was elected as a chairperson of the Diversity Committee at the College of Nursing at Wayne State University. The committee provided scholarships to students for their Health Disparity Essay contest focused on increasing awareness and interest in health disparity-related topics significant to the nursing profession. As a member of the UCF PhD program committee, I participated at the drafting of the holistic admission strategies to incorporate life experiences to augment GPA scores. I am a Professor at UCF, a Hispanic-serving institution. Although ~25% of students at UCF are of Hispanic descent, only ~14% of graduate nursing students are of Hispanic descent. I am a Co-Investigator of the EFERMERIA project to address the underrepresentation of Hispanic students in post-baccalaureate nursing programs. My research and mentoring have been focused on decreasing disparities in maternal and infant health. I am committed to advancing health equity.

I have built a career in academia over the past decade and possess the skills needed to be a successful dean. I am committed to excellence in teaching, clinical practice, and scholarship. As a Dean at the AU College of Nursing, I will collaborate with students, faculty, staff, clinical partners, and community members to further the Colleges' mission to "advance health, wellness, and healthcare for all, through excellence in practice, teaching, scholarship, and outreach". I would love the opportunity to lead the College of Nursing to grow the research enterprise, enable experiential learning, and promote interprofessional collaborations. I have the passion and commitment to nursing science as well as key experiences that can continue the transformation of the College of Nursing to be a leader in education, scholarship, and clinical practice.

I look forward to the opportunity to speak with you about this position and what contributions I can make to your College. Thank you for your consideration of my candidacy.

Sincerely,

CAREER SUMMARY

Guided the direction of nursing science through new research initiatives and training programs that align with the mission of the College. Led inter-professional teams in conducting pioneering work to identify the bio-psycho-social pathways by which social determinants of health increase the risk for preterm birth among Black women. Mentored faculty and students in their research endeavors, fostering a supportive environment for academic growth. Taught both graduate and undergraduate students, focusing on healthcare needs, health disparities, and nursing practice. Supported faculty in the preparation of Competency-Based Education for the pre-licensure program and Nurse Practitioner's DNP program emphasizing cutting-edge, practice-ready training. Supported research and educational programs aimed on reducing health disparities and improving the health and well-being of diverse populations in the 21st century.

RESEARCH AND TRAINING PROGRAMS FUNDING

~ $17 million as PI, Co-I and faculty sponsor

Funded Projects as Principal Investigator or Co-Investigator (see next section for funding as faculty mentor)

- 2023-2027 Epigenetic aging, social factors, and preterm birth among Black women. Role: Principal Investigator. Funded by the NIH, NIMHD. NIH Grant # R01MD018293 ($3,292,802) (MPI: Giurgescu & Ohm).
- 2023-2024 Utilization of virtual simulation to augment clinical-based competencies in maternal-child care while incorporating diversity. Role: Co-Investigator. Funded by the Swift Family Foundation ($15,000) (PI Diaz).
- 2022-2024 Social and environmental exposures and risk of preterm birth for Black babies. Role: Co-Investigator. Funded by the University of Michigan, Amendt-Heller for Newborn Research Award ($29,700) (PI Saadat).
- 2022-2024 Physical activity promotion for Black pregnant women through nurse-led groups. Role: Co-Investigator. Funded by the Swift Family Foundation ($15,000) (PI Davis).
- 2022-2027 ENFERMERIA: Educating Nurses for Engagement, Research, Mentoring Excellence & Reinforcing Interpretation Access. Role: Co-Investigator. Funded by the Department of Education: Promoting Postbaccalaureate Opportunities for Hispanic Americans Program (PPOHA Grant Title V, Part B) ($2,732,512) (PI Guzman).
- 2022-2023 FitMoms2Be program for Black mothers. Role: Co-Investigator. Funded by the Central Florida Foundation ($8,800) (PI Davis).
- 2021-2022 Exploring outcomes of FitMoms2B exercise program among African American women with high-risk pregnancy. Role Co-Investigator. Funded by the University of Central Florida ER1 Award ($20,000) (PI Davis).
- 2020-2022 Family stress, coparenting, and infant development among immigrant Arab-American families. Role: Co-Investigator. Funded by the NIH, Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institutes of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD) NIH Grant # R03 HD101662 ($161,460)(PI Khalil) (Dr. Alhasanat-Khalil is an Assistant Professor at Wayne State University. I was the chairperson for her dissertation committee, graduation 2017).
- 2020-2022 Administrative supplement focused on the COVID-19 pandemic for the NIH R01 study Social stressors and inflammation: A mixed methods approach to preterm birth (R01MD011575). Role: Principal Investigator. Funded by the NIH, National Institute of Minority Health and Health Disparities (NIMHD), NIH Grant # R01 MD011575-05S1 ($197,610) (PI Giurgescu).
- 2020-2022 Administrative supplement for maternal morbidity for the NIH R01 study Social stressors and inflammation: A mixed methods approach to preterm birth (R01MD011575). Role: Principal Investigator. Funded by the NIH, NIMHD, NIH

Grant # R01 MD011575-05S2 ($266,479) (PI Giurgescu).

- 2019-2020 Effects of maternal psychological distress on infant telomere length and development among Syrian and Iraqi refugees. Role: Mentor and Co-I. Funded by the McComish Endowed Research award ($3,200) (PI Khalil).
- 2019-2020 Effects of maternal psychological distress on infant telomere length and development among Syrian and Iraqi refugees. Role: Mentor and Co-I. Funded by the Wereley award ($5,000) (PI Khalil).
- 2018-2023 Paternal role in adverse birth outcomes in Black families. Role: Principal Investigator. Funded by the NIH, National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR), NIH Grant # R01 NR017626 ($1,836,960) (Multiple PIs: Caldwell, Giurgescu & Misra).
- 2017-2023 Social stressors and inflammation: A mixed methods approach to preterm birth. Role: Principal Investigator. Funded by the NIH, NIMHD, NIH Grant # R01 MD011575 ($3,768,947) (PI Giurgescu).
- 2017-2021 Chronic stress, lipidome profiles and preterm birth in African American women. Role: Co-Investigator. Funded by the NIH, NIMHD, NIH Grant # R15 MD011465 ($486,287) (PI: Walker). (Application submitted as PI prior to receipt of R01 funding; changed to Co-I due to NIH rule that a PI on a NIH R01 study is not eligible to be a PI on a NIH R15 study.)
- 2018-2019 Effects of maternal psychological distress on infant telomere length and development among Syrian and Iraqi refugees. Role: Mentor and Co-I. Funded by the American Nurses Foundation ($10,000) (PI Alhasanat-Khalil).
- 2018-2019 Effects of maternal stress and depression on infant telomere length and development among Syrian and Iraqi refugees. Role: Mentor and Co-I. Funded by the Sigma Theta Tau International Lambda Chapter ($2,000) (PI Alhasanat-Khalil).
- 2015-2017 Neighborhood environment, lipidomes and preterm birth in African American women. Role: Dual PI. Funded by the Institute for Population Sciences, Health Assessment, Administration, Services, and Economics (INPHAASE), Wayne State University and Henry Ford Health System ($61,250) (dual PIs Giurgescu & Cassidy- Bushrow).
- 2016-2017 Pilot testing an intervention to increase physical activity in pregnant Black women. Role: PI. Funded by the Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Foundation ($63,000) (PI Giurgescu).
- 2015-2016 Refining and pilot testing an intervention to increase physical activity in pregnant Black women. Role: PI. Funded by the Office of the Vice President for Research's Grants Boost program, Wayne State University ($35,000) (PI Giurgescu).
- 2014-2016 Chronic stressors, proteome profiles, and preterm birth in African American women. Role: Dual PI. Funded by the Center for Urban Responses to Environmental Stressors, NIH Grant #P30 ES 020957 ($150,000) (NIH PI Runge-Morris; pilot study dual PIs: Giurgescu & Stemmer).
- 2014-2015 University Research Grant. Role: PI. Funded by Wayne State University ($10,000) (PI Giurgescu).
