3. SEGMENTS CHANGED

i. Note

This Faculty Handbook is not a contract. It is a collection of ~~Board of Trustees' and administrative~~ policies and procedures that govern action uniquely pertaining to the Auburn University faculty. Additions, deletions and modifications to any portion of this Handbook must be approved by the Auburn Board of Trustees or their designee, following a recommendation from the Senate.

University policies that apply to all categories of employment at Auburn University—faculty, administrative and professional, and staff—are not included in the Faculty Handbook. Faculty members are reminded that these policies apply to them and that it is their responsibility to consult other sources for policies of general application to all employees of Auburn University. ~~and a compilation of information about the University and current practices that will be of practical use to the faculty.~~

~~All policies are printed in roman type. Information is printed in italics.~~

~~Policy statements printed herein are subject to change from time to time; information will be updated on a regular basis.~~

Chapter 3, Section 13 BA. RETIRED FACULTY PLANNING

~~A faculty member should early on give serious thought to preparations for retirement. A joint seminar on retirement and investment is given each fall by the three supplemental retirement systems (JSP, TIAA/CREF, and Valic); the Alabama Retirement System also offers a fall seminar. All systems will also provide individual advice through local representatives or telephone conferences. Two to three semesters before retirement, a faculty member should confer with his or her retirement system representatives about specific arrangements relevant to his or her situation. The retiring faculty member should also contact the local Social Security Office at least one semester before the final semester of employment.~~

~~The retiring faculty member must return his or her Auburn identification card and all library books. However, he or she may obtain a new identification card and with this card avail himself or herself of faculty library and parking privileges and half-price season tickets to Auburn football and basketball games.~~

If appropriate, a retired faculty member may be invited to serve on ~~department and University~~ committees. If need warrants, a retired faculty member may be invited to teach in a limited way in his or her former department; such an invitation is at the discretion of the department head with the amount of compensation governed by the retirement and Social Security system's guidelines. Additional privileges are extended to retired faculty with emeritus status.

~~A retired faculty member is invited to participate in the organizations listed elsewhere in this Handbook.~~

Chapter 5, Section 1

Research is essential to the continuing vitality of a large-scale institutional program. All of Auburn's academic colleges, schools and departments are engaged in research. The University's research program is coordinated through the Office of Associate Provost and Vice President for Research.

~~Research is conducted in organized research units or as general research in academic colleges, schools and departments. Formal research units include the Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station, the Alabama Microelectronics Center, the Arts and Humanities Center (Pebble Hill), the Auburn Utilities Research Center, the Biological Control Institute, the Center for the Commercial Development of Space, the Economic Development Institute, the Engineering Experiment Station, the Food Technology Institute, the Forest Regeneration Center, the Highway Research Center, the Institute for Latin American Studies, the Mises Institute, the National Center for Asphalt Technology, the National Textile Center, the Nuclear Science Center, the Office of Public Service and Research, the Pulp and Paper Research Education Center, the Scott Ritchey Research Center, the Space Power Institute, the Walter Center for Technology Management, the Water Resources Research Institute, and others. Research in organized research units is supported from state and federal appropriations as well as research contracts, grants, and agreement funds. University research in the academic departments is also funded through these sources as well as internal sources.~~
