Spring 2022 Instructional Methods

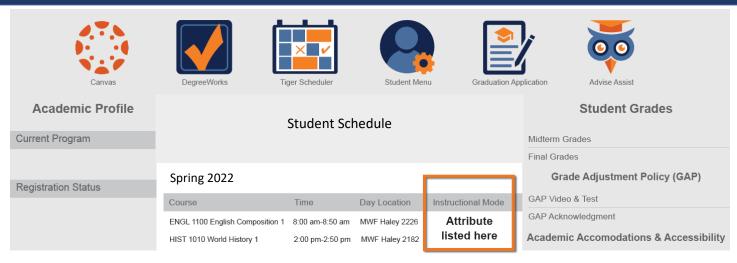

Spring 2022 classes will be taught using one of the instructional methods below:

Campus (CMPS)	A campus course is one in which faculty plan to teach in person on campus.
Online Asynchronous (ONLA)	Course taught completely online whereby students engage with available materials when they choose outside of meeting deadlines.
Online Synchronous (ONLS)	Course taught completely online in real time. Students are expected to participate in the course at the designated days and times.

Modalities are listed as attributes in Look Up Classes and Tiger Scheduler.

Once registered, students can view the instructional methods for their schedule in AU Access:

Advisors can view a student's schedule with instructional methods in View/Print Student Schedule:

