

Lisa A. W. Kensler, Emily R. and Gerald S. Leischuck Endowed Professor and Program Coordinator for Educational Leadership at Auburn University, studies and teaches about democratic community, systems theory, and leadership for whole school sustainability. Her experience as an ecologist and educator informs her research related to designing, managing, and leading PK-12 schools. She also provides strengths-based coaching and professional development for local school district partners and for educators nationally.