The College to Career (C2C) Series is back!

The College to Career (C2C) series, a FREE professional development learning series for all College of Human Sciences students, is back again for the 2014-15 academic year. This series, sponsored by the CHS Academic Affairs Office and the Women's Philanthropy Board, is designed to support the transition from student to professional.

Topics for Fall 2014 include:

- Acing the Interview (September)
- Getting into Graduate School (October), and
- Budgeting: How to Create a Spending and Savings Plan (November)

Join us for the first C2C presentation, "Acing the Interview," on Monday, September 8th at 5:00 pm in Spidle Hall room 244. All students are welcome to attend!

The C2C series will also offer a FREE "Dress and Dine for Success" Etiquette Dinner on Monday, September 29th at 6:00pm at The Hotel at Auburn University. Enrollment for the etiquette dinner is limited to 30 CHS students (juniors/seniors only). Registration will open online Wednesday, September 10th at 8:00 AM. An email with the link for registration will be sent in advance.

C2C activities for Spring 2015 include:

- Understanding Your First Job Offer,
- Financial Planning for Young Professionals, and
- Writing Effective Letters

For more information about C2C, including specific dates and locations for sessions, please call the CHS Academic Affairs Office at 844-4790.
