

2015 new york study tour

Preparation for the study tour will occur throughout Fall semester in special lectures, workshops and assignments on the AU campus designed to enhance the culminating experience in New York. From December 4 - 8th 2015, students will have the opportunity to visit many exciting venues in Manhattan related to art, design, food, families and culture, as well as to serve as ambassadors at the International Quality of Life Awards held at the United Nations on Monday, December 7th, 2015.

To be eligible to enroll in this course, a student must:

- be a junior or senior in the College of Human Sciences;
- have an overall 3.0 ungapped GPA;
- complete and submit the application no later than 4:45 pm, Friday, March 20, 2015;
- participate in a competitive interview selection process; and
- understand that the tour is scheduled during final exam week; therefore, students must be willing to work with their instructors to reschedule some or all of their final exams (permission to reschedule will be provided by the Dean's office). Enrollment is limited.

Students are expected to cover the cost of an on-campus etiquette dinner, as well as airfare, ground transportation and some meals in New York. Hotel accommodations, transportation related to the tour, entrance fees to New York sites, and other selected meals will be provided.
